

Home > Community > Business News > Local leader named finalist

(photo provided by LecsIT)

Local leader named finalist

December 3, 2025 / By Kerry Sapet

James Horvath, founder and CEO of Plymouth-based LecsIT, is a finalist in the 2025 MSP Titans of the Industry Awards.

The national recognition honors leadership and innovation in the managed service provider field. Finalists are nominated for using innovation to deliver measurable results by tailoring IT solutions to the demands of their industry. Horvath is among a group of technology leaders across the country nominated in the health care category.

Horvath founded LecsIT in 2011. The company provides IT support and services for South Bend, Plymouth and Michiana businesses. LecsIT specializes in serving small to medium-sized businesses

"This recognition isn't just about me. It reflects the hard work, grit and commitment poured in every day by our team, our partners and the clients who trust us to protect and support their businesses," Horvath said. "Moments like this remind me how far we've come and just how much opportunity lies ahead."

Beyond his work at LecsIT, Horvath is also an ambassador for the South Bend Young Professionals Network.

The Titans of the Industry Awards Gala will take place Dec. 10, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, California. The hotel has been a long-time host of the Golden Globe Awards and over 175 red carpet galas.

Author

Kerry Sapet

Kerry Sapet has been a freelance writer for more than 20 years. She has written for newspapers, magazines, websites and the children's publishing market. Sapet is the author of more than 30 books for children and young adults. She has a degree in journalism from Ohio University's Honors Tutorial

View all posts

Recent Posts

-  Synergy Insurance expands
-  Legacy Medical Academy model recognized
-  Insulation Components launches new product
-  Notre Dame faculty honored
-  Dig the Dunes hosts party

Share on social

